Shadows In The Sun (Feelin' Reelin' Squeelin') / Beautiful (Soft Machine)

- Shadows In The Sun [The Beautiful]
- Walter's Dream

"Los Angeles-based producer and impresario Kim Fowley came to London in 1967 and managed to insert himself behind the controls for the first recordings of the Soft Machine, darlings of the nascent London psychedelic music scene.

Sneaking the tapes, still piping hot, back to Los Angeles, Fowley released Feelin' Reelin' Squeelin' (renamed Shadows in the sun) under the fabricated name Beautiful on the one-off Cyclops label."

Soft Machine (Spanish Compilation)

- Mousetrap
- Noisette
- Backwards
- Mousetrap (reprise)
- Slightly All The Time
- Teeth
- Kings And Queens
- All White

Compilation espagnole.

Tracks 1 à 4:
Mousetrap, Noisette, Backwards et Mousetrap (reprise) sont identiques aux morceaux éponymes parus en 2003 sur le disc 2 de BBC Radio 1967-1971.

Track 5:
Slightly All The Time est identique au morceau éponyme paru en 2003 sur le disc 1 de BBC Radio 1967-1971.

Tracks 6 et 7:
Teeth et Kings And Queens sont extraits de Fourth.

Cet album recèle plusieurs anomalies surprenantes :
- Robert Wyatt n'apparait pas sur les photos de la pochette alors qu'il joue sur tous les morceaux sauf le dernier.
- Certains morceaux indiqués au verso ne sont pas présents sur le disque (Out Bloody Rageous et Eamonn Andrews)
- Le morceau Teeth est orthographié Peeth.
- Kevin Ayers (orthographié Ayres) est crédité au verso de la pochette alors qu'il n'est aucunement concerné par cette publication.

- Chelsa [Robert Wyatt/Kevin Ayers*]
- Rivmic Melodies [Robert Wyatt]
- Slow Walkin' Talk [Brian Hopper]
- Moon In June [Robert Wyatt]
- Rivmic Melodies - Radio Edit [Robert Wyatt] (bonus on digital version)

- Robert Wyatt - vocals, piano, electric piano, Hammond organ, bass, drums, percussion

- Jimi Hendrix - bass (Slow Walkin Talk)
- Hugh Hopper - bass (second half of Moon In June)
- Mike Ratledge - Lowrey organ (second half of Moon In June)

Recorded in October-November 1968 at T.T.G. Studios, Hollywood , CA and The Record Plant, New-York City, NY, USA. The second half of Moon In June was recorded in mid-1969 in England.

*Aymeric Leroy qui a fait l'interview de Robert Wyatt publié dans le booklet m'a écrit (25/12/2013) :
"Les crédits d'écriture du morceau Chelsa attribuent à tort le texte à Kevin Ayers (c'était le souvenir - erroné - de Robert), alors qu'il est en réalité de Daevid Allen.
Il existe d'ailleurs une version de cette chanson (musique différente car signée elle aussi d'Allen) sur le CD d'archives de Gong "Camembert Eclectique" paru dans les années 90."

2009

A Season In Hell

- Radio Intro
- A Season In Hell
- Radio Outro

- Robert Wyatt - vocal

- Carl Prekopp – narration
- Elisabeth Purnell – soundtrack

BBC Radio 3
Broadcast: sat 14 Nov 2009

"An abridged radio reworking of Rimbaud's intense masterpiece of spiritual disillusionment, narrated by Carl Prekopp with a soundscape by Bristol composer Elisabeth Purnell and poems sung by Robert Wyatt...

Elisabeth Purnell's soundtrack for the work includes composed music, field recordings and processed sound in a raw response to the words; she set the poems specifically for Wyatt, whose voice in its high, delicate register suggests a beyond-the-grave alter-ego to the young Rimbaud."

Robert Wyatt e Cristina Donà – Televisione

"È stata una sfida perché avevo già lavorato con questa squadra più di 15 anni fa, ai tempi dell'album di Cristina Donà, Nido. Robert Wyatt aveva messo voci, tromba e altre parti ritmiche sul brano Goccia e quindi volevo rimettere in piedi quel team con Cristina alla voce, Wyatt alla strumentazione e noi come musicisti aggiunti per rifare Televisione. Cristina è stata impeccabile, come sempre, ha cantato in maniera emozionante ma senza sforzarsi, in modo naturale; Wyatt invece ha collaborato in un modo particolare: lui non incide più e non suona più, non in pubblico almeno; il suo studio, come dice lui, 'è una stanza polverosa piena di ricordi', però ci ha proposto, quando gli abbiamo chiesto se voleva suonare sul pezzo, di usare tutto quello che potevamo trovare su di lui in giro: pezzi musicali, improvvisazioni. Abbiamo fatto una ricerca e più che utilizzare dei campionamenti dalle sue canzoni, cosa che ci sembrava scontata, abbiamo preso delle improvvisazioni dalle sue esibizioni dal vivo, vocali e strumentali, che non appartenevano a delle canzoni in particolare. In una di queste improvvisazioni, fatte per una radio francese, fa il ritmo della batteria con la voce e magicamente quel ritmo è lo stesso di Televisione. Abbiamo sovrapposto la sua voce alla batteria ed è stato perfetto. Poi abbiamo aggiunto anche altre sue parti musicali e gliel'abbiamo spedito. Ci ha dato alcuni consigli ma è stato entusiasta. Per me è stato fantastico. Con la mia ritrosia, se avessi saputo prima che non suonava più non lo avrei mai contattato. Sbagliando".

Bresse-sur-Grosne, November 1983 &
Elsewhere Studios, Kent, April 1995.

" The first (collaboration) actually over a decade in the making, the backing track produced during the sessions for Hugh's duo album with Richard Sinclair in 1983 - which remained unfinished at the time. "Robert thought about writing some words for it and then decided not to" Hugh later explained.
The vocal-less backing track was recycled for Hugh's 1983 album Hooligan Romantics with vocals and lyrics by John Atkinson (as C'est Grace), until Robert finally wrote lyrics and added his voice to the 1983 recording. Thus completed in 1995, the track only saw release on the Parabolic Versions compilation in 2000, three years after Robert Wyatt had released his own version on Shleep. "

Réédition des EP de Vivien Goldman publiés en 1981 (Launderette et Dirty Washing) complétée par des morceaux des deux groupes auxquels Vivien Golman participa (The Flying Lizards et Chantage).

Les crédits des morceaux varient d'une édition à l'autre:

> Zoom 1 2 3

Resolutionary
(Songs 1979-1982)
2016

- sur la première version Launderette/Private Armies, Robert Wyatt n'est crédité que pour le 1er morceau *Launderette (voir ici)*.

- sur la seconde version Dirty Washing éditée la même année, Robert Wyatt semble crédité sur tous les morceaux du EP. (voir ici)

- sur la présente réédition Resolutionary, Robert Wyatt n'est plus du tout crédité dans les notes de pochette. (voir ici)

Il semble néanmoins qu'il ne joue des percussions que sur le premier morceau (Launderette).

About Always There :

Written in 2002, my spiritual reflection after returning to Japan for the second time, and hoping that Japan would always be there to welcome me back. Although this song has already appeared on some previous releases, this particular one I would say is the ultimate 'Canterbury' version, with myself and cousin Richard Sinclair, Jimmy Hastings and Robert Wyatt, Billie Bottle, Derby Cathedral Choir, and orchestration by Neil Saunders.

This version is also dedicated to my long-time friend Bob Clarke, who, for the final five years of my piano shop in Herne Bay Kent, assisted in my piano restoration, shop keeping, and transportation of pianos etc, for no reward except the enjoyment of being around pianos. He himself had one of my pianos and played this song, 'Always There', every single day, it was his favourite piece of music. After he passed away in 2017 his wife Pat organised the playing of this song during his service.

About The Unknown Zone :

- Robert Wyatt - keyboards
- Phil Manzanera - guitar
- Brian Eno - drums [chaos drums], bass [synth bass]
- Yaron Stavi - double bass

"A few years ago when Robert Wyatt was recording Cuckooland at my studio Eno popped round for dinner, a chat, and an overdub or two and after a few bevvies we had a jam. This track, The Unknown Zone grew out of that night's improvisations, as did my track 50 Minutes Later' [released on the album 50 Minutes Later]."

- Lorenzo Brusci - suoni, metacomposizione, composizione non lineare
- Andrea de Luca - voce

Il lavoro si inspira allo spettacolo teatrale "Thomas Beckett" di e con Andrea de Luca.

La voce di Andrea non è elaborata digitalmente; le sue esecuzioni sono il risultatol di sessioni d''improvvisazione libera o guidata.

Non potendo riprodurre i frammenti di Murder in the Cathedral di T.S. Eliot a cui sia Shadows che lo spettacolo teatrale Thomas Becket si riferiscono, suggeriamo un confronto tra il testo originale e le elaborazioni testuali / musicali compiute.
Si ringrazia il Teatro di Leo per la collaborazione.

Robert Wyatt is one of the many artists sampled in this album (see the full list) but it is not possible to identify the track(s) involved (Lorenzo Brusci himself no longer has this information).

Ces 3 morceaux samplent Brian The Fox, extrait de Cuckooland.
Un quatrième morceau 04.01-08 - Ring version sortira ultérieurement en 2015.

"Received a tape from Robert Wyatt in 1998. The title was "Brian The Fox" and four takes were recorded. We chose one take from it and started working on it. I first dubbed layers of sounds to it and Takaaki Han-ya took over the piece afterwards. The piece was dramatically changed and completed after a total of two years.

I became aware of more possibilities for the piece sometime after we finished the work. That was the beginning of this long journey. The second one was an instrumental version and the third one was a short vocal version. Then, I completed a suite with a story (eight takes) and the new version is still developing at the moment."

"This song originally appeared on the 1972 Matching Mole album. It was written by Robert Wyatt and Dave Sinclair. It's a haunting song of love and longing, which I've been singing for many years as part of Annie's Soupsongs project, a band which plays Robert's music, and which accompanied him for the live performances featured in the BBC documentary 'Free Will and Testament'. I originally heard the first line 'David's on piano' as 'Dave sits on piano' , and have sung it like that ever since. It's a reference to Dave Sinclair of course, keyboard player with Matching Mole. Although there's no piano on our version, David (Torn) was next to the piano as he played guitar on the track at Dreamland, albeit not quite actually sitting on it. The vocal, acoustic guitar and creaky stool were recorded live at Dreamland.I had a dreadful sore throat but when I listened to it back I liked the result. Matthew working his magic with the API desk and a Neumann U47. Annie, inspired by the Mellotron on the original, came up with a beautiful trombone arrangement. Paul Brady sent some wonderful whistle all the way from Dublin. I called Robert to tell him what we were up to and back home in Sawkill flew in some trumpet and vocal samples, using the 'Wyatttron'."

Summer 2013
Towards the end of the 20th century, Th sent me a message asking something like;
"do you have any piece of new material we could work on"-----?
I did have. Brian the Fox was an un-placed, un-worked basic idea I had. unusual for me in that it had no strict tempo, and the words were an attempt to write a text even shorter than a Haiku!
(I just recorded it directly onto tape at home, on cassette, no 'production'.)
the music ending was improvised – the delay before the final chords was me trying to choose the final few chords…
I sent this to Th and Rinko.
they have enhanced the idea beautifully.

"Kevin Wilkinson, drummer with many bands including the Shriekback-related League Of Gentlemen, Restaurant For Dogs, The Caretakers, Illuminati and The Refugees, took his own life on the 18th of July 1999.

He left behind a rich legacy of music and a lot of friends, and one of them, David Marx, has put together this 2CD compilation as a tribute to Kevin.

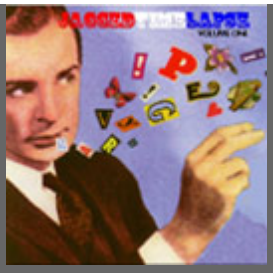

All proceeds go to the Green Indians Trust, set up on behalf of Kevin's children.

The compilation was released on 18th December 2000, and contains many previously unreleased tracks."

"J'ai rembobiné le film de ma vie d'amateur dans un livre de conversations avec Maud Berthomier que nous avons sous-titré Une hist*oire intime de la musique*. Mon existence, comme celle de bien des gens de mon âge, a été bouleversée par la découverte de tout un nouveau monde musical. J'ai senti que le moment était venu de plonger au cœur de cette révélation afin de livrer mon propre témoignage.

"The 2002 Progman Cometh festival was held in Seattle to bring together some of the "cream of the crop" of Canterbury musicians.

Sadly, twenty years later many of these incredible musicians have passed on, making it all the more important to support those still with us. We are indeed fortunate that their music will live on forever."

"The compilation was mixed and edited under Jerry Cook's supervision in 2003 with the hope of this being released as a double-CD souvenir set, but it never happened." (A. Leroy)

This compilation is dedicated to Palestine.

Looking at the oppressive political climate in Germany and the structures of racialised policing that enable it, we urgently recognise that, in whatever we do, a commitment to anti-colonial and pro-Palestinian politics must be upheld. This is how we can cultivate an effective anti-fascist movement locally and internationally. We stand together with the Palestinian people against the genocidal aggression of the Israeli war machine and its enablers.

We will be donating all revenue raised from this compilation 50/50 to the NGOs 'Jüdische Stimme für gerechten Frieden in Nahost' and 'Palästina Kampagne'. Both organisations are doing important work, from planning demonstrations to panels, as well as providing legal support for all those affected by the state led censorship and oppression.

1968 August 11 - Col Ballroom, Davenport, Iowa, Usa,

These recordings are presented with these comments :
Improv (1) is an impro on the theme We Did It Again.
Improv (2) is certainly not live. Mislabeled thus. This is actually an early version of The Moon In June, which is itself based on an early unreleased demo song from 67 called That Is How I Love You.
From the vynil pops and the barely audible lyrics, I'd guess this is from an untouched rip of the acetate version. Wyatt plays all instruments on the first part [NY session], the second part attached is from a London session with the whole band.

"This installment of the Sonic Residue Recordings brings us a real treat! even thou this show has been released officially this one sounds A LOT better, plus it includes lots of material not on the official release, plus longer versions of some of the officially released tracks... So the next question you might ask is: Can I throw away my official CD... The answer is NO... because this version has a small cut at the beginning of Calyx and I'm A Believer is not complete, it fades out halfway... so download this one and buy the official one and you will have the most complete possible version of this show!"

Programme réalisé par Robert Wyatt pour la RAI italienne en février 1981 (diffusé au printemps 81 puis rediffusé en septembre 2002 à l'occasion d'une Wyatt Notte sur RadioTre Rai).

Les morceaux parlés (Parlato) sont des lectures de textes de Robert Wyatt sur la musique, le processus créatif, l'improvisation, la politique etc.

La première version présentée ci-contre comporte une illustration originale de l'auteur de la création graphique du CD A Different You - Robert Wyatt e noi.

Une version "officielle" est sortie en juin 2009 sur le label italien Tracce.

Live 1969 & Réhearsals in Haunted Chateau.

December 1969 : "Gong (minus Gerry Field, who moves to London) settle in Château du Thiel (nicknamed "haunted château") near Bernay in Normandy (France), family seat of the Laperrousaz family, offered to Gong as temporary winter accommodation after the festival of Amougies.
They rehearse there over Christmas and "despite the unsympathetic presence of the ancestral ghost", create "Est-Ce Que Je Suis?", "Hyp Hyp Hypnotise Ya", and "It's The Time Of Your Life".
They also shoot additional sequences for the Amougies film." [calyx-canterbury.fr]

Sentimientos Deux est signé "Pascal Comelade d'après Robert Wyatt et Jacques Thollot."

Ce titre est très inspiré de The End Of An Ear et Quand Le Son De La Girafe.

Sentimientos 2 a précédemment été édité sur le LP Sentimientos paru en 1981 sous la dénomination (probable) Wyatt Ah Um (DYS RECORDS).

Live at the Fasano Jazz Festival, Teatro Kennedy, Fasano (Brindisi), Italy; June 7, 2014.

This is an orchestra run by Fernando Faraò (brother of pianist Antonio), originally all dedicated to Mike Westbrook and Alan Gowen, then to Canterbury jazz in general. Here, with the presence of Keith Tippet, almost become some kind of Softs tribute act, or better, Soft Machine as played by Hatfield and The North. Keith and Julie Driscoll only enter from Track 05 onwards.

"As far as we can ascertain, these tracks have never been officially released on CD".

L'univers du" Rock Bottom" de Robert Wyatt sert de fil conducteur à cet album dont chaque morceau explore cette "source inépuisable d'émotion".
A ce titre, si Sea Song est la seule "vraie" reprise, tous les morceaux empruntent de manière plus ou moins explicite au vocabulaire et à la cosmogonie wyattienne...

"This song originally appeared on the 1972 Matching Mole album. It was written by Robert Wyatt and Dave Sinclair. It's a haunting song of love and longing, which I've been singing for many years as part of Annie's Soupsongs project, a band which plays Robert's music, and which accompanied him for the live performances featured in the BBC documentary 'Free Will and Testament'. I originally heard the first line 'David's on piano' as 'Dave sits on piano' , and have sung it like that ever since. It's a reference to Dave Sinclair of course, keyboard player with Matching Mole. Although there's no piano on our version, David (Torn) was next to the piano as he played guitar on the track at Dreamland, albeit not quite actually sitting on it. The vocal, acoustic guitar and creaky stool were recorded live at Dreamland.I had a dreadful sore throat but when I listened to it back I liked the result. Matthew working his magic with the API desk and a Neumann U47. Annie, inspired by the Mellotron on the original, came up with a beautiful trombone arrangement. Paul Brady sent some wonderful whistle all the way from Dublin. I called Robert to tell him what we were up to and back home in Sawkill flew in some trumpet and vocal samples, using the 'Wyatttron'."

I Have A Dream
2019

A Friend (avec des paroles différentes de celles composées par R. W. pour l'album Shleep).
Plus exactement, cette version d'Anaïd reprend le texte initialement écrit par Robert Wyatt pour Hugh Hopper.
En 1997, Robert Wyatt écrira un nouveau texte pour l'enregistrement de Shleep.

"A tribute... To our friend, Hugh Hopper, but also to the legendary ubiquitous figure of canterburian music, Robert Wyatt..."

- The Kiss

"Originally written and performed by Chic, I first heard it covered by Robert Wyatt not long ago. It's in part a break up song, but it goes beyond that. There's something beautiful about the ambiguity of the song. The verses are quite personal, and then there's this huge, ecstatic yet melancholy chorus. I love Robert Wyatt's version of it too. His wizardly voice and that lead synth line that give it a special edge. It's a big tune."

Besteren testu eta kantak ere erabili eta moldatu ziren, arte iraultzailearen tradizioa errebisitatzeko saiakeran. Hor dakartzagu, hurrenez hurren, Robert Wyatt, Jacques Marchais, Mikel Laboa eta Victor Jararen kantak.
Kantak eta poemak 2021eko ekainaren 19an grabatu ziren, zuzenean, Azkoitiko Baztartxo Antzokiko emanaldian.

Aquaserge

- NIO (New Information Order) [R. Wyatt]
- Escalade

Lyrics in french by Audrey Ginestet.

Aquaserge got in touch with Robert Wyatt to present their cover version project, here's a loose transcript of their phone conversation
"— Allo Robert, what do you think of our adaptation of the lyrics for N.I.O?
— You've perfectly understood the spirit of the song which, for me, is even more relevant today than when I wrote it.
— The world is marvellous, isn't it?
— Well… there's an escalation in progress… Isn't this a mantra which is comforting as much as it's scaring?
*— indeed, le monde amer est feu … "

"There has been heavy rotation of Robert Wyatt's music these past couple of years. His life seems to reflect his music's commitment to justice and total exposure. To celebrate his birthday, I put together versions of both "Just As You Are" and "Free Will and Testament." The former was co-written with Alfie Benge, whose artwork is an essential presence and influence on the music."

The SMS Orchestra is a chamber orchestra project founded in 2012 by the artistic director Stefano Giannotti.

[...] " Despite the title and its genesis, a record was born that is homogeneous in quality and above all in the atmosphere created, played a lot on the rarefaction of the rhythms, embellished by careful and wise inserts of guitar and drums. Among all the songs that stand out are "Molecole" by Lavezzi/Mogol, sweet and introspective like the original, the beautiful and almost ambient "Nostalgia" from Sylvian's post-Japan debut album and the little-known psychedelic-flavored song "Memory of a free festival" by Bowie, introduced by a delightful keyboard that improves the original intro that was entrusted to a Rosedale electric organ for children. But the revisitations of the very famous "Venus in furs" by Lou Reed, from the famous "banana" album by The Velvet Underground, and the wavering "Sea Song" by Wyatt that maintains the hypnotic slowness of the original and the Canterbury flavor so dear to the artist, also intrigue. "
